

Speaking to students about patents at Banasthali University

News & Updates • February 19, 2018

Stuti Dhyani speaks to students at Banasthali University about patenting in a daylong session at a seminar organised by their law department. Stuti was invited to conduct a 'Training Program on Advanced Legal Drafting' as part of a 3-day seminar organised by the law department at Banasthali University. Heartening to see such an enthusiastic response from students to patents and IP.
